FMH Conveyors' BestConnect reconfigurable rigid conveyors are designed to provide rapid assembly of conveying solutions for changing workplaces. This system can be easily configured and reconfigured to suit your facility needs.

This conveying system uses photo electronics to provide automated flow control giving the user improved ergonomics, reduced labor cost, and improved service life. With options of using read between the roller optics, all product shapes and materials can be detected and controlled easily. The zoned flow control only allows each package to proceed when the downstream zone is empty.
